FRED TENNEY IN SMILES

His Boston Team Plays Havoc with McGraw's Giants.

TERRIERS SNAP AND BITE

Close Decisions and Lack of Timely Hits Count Against Home Team.

After winning seven straight games on the hilltop, the New York Giants went down to a humiliating defeat at the hands of the Boston Terriers yesterday afternoon. The score was 9 to 3. Opportunity, the gladsome lady, knocked not only once, but twice, and even thrice, at the door of the New York team, but the response was weak, as the record of nine men left on bases shows. After rapping the ball over the fence on Thursday, Merkle came to bat in the seventh with two out, and the bases full, only to pop weakly to Ingerton. Snodgrass and Devore both fell down in the pinches when the Giants were in a fair way to pull the game out of the fire.

McGraw's men, however, were working under a heavy bandicap personified in the persons of two umpires and a noisy "fan right back of their bench, who was enough to boodoo any game. Twice was Boston favored by close decisions which had a direct bearing on the score. The mighty parley and powwow between the players and the officials naturally followed to the usual no purpose, but no one was put or of the game

In the third frame, when Clarke grounded to Devlin with Rariden on third, Arthur appeared to have the catcher out when he tagged him on a brilliant play, instead of throwing to first, but Doyle ruled other This paved the way for four runs in the frame, as Clarke would have been the second out. In the seventh Merkle picked up Herzog's bunt on the base line and tagged the runner out, but neither Doyle nor Klem could see it, and another run was tallied later in the inning by means of the start thus obtained.

Taking the game by and large, Giants performed rather poorly. the Boston batsmen got to hitting the ball got his eye on the ball and lifted it over they had the team on the run and stretched the right field fence for a home run. wild. After the Giants had squeezed over one run on two passes and a single in the third inning and he had begun the fourth with a couple of passes Tenney called on Freffer. The former Chicago twirler pulled out in safety. He was far from being in form, but was good enough to check the Giants. Youngster Shows His Mettle by Pitching Sterling Game, with Few Hits.

Boston, April 28.-The New York Yankees won to-day's game with the Boston Red Sox, thereby breaking even on the series. The score was 2 to 1. The sterling pitching of Caldwell, one of Chase's youngsters, was largely responsible for the victory. He was invincible in the pinches, and while he was hit hard at times he was always able to tighten up at the critical moment Chase's men are now safely in second place. Caldwel was compelled to show his mettle in the fourth frame, and came through with flying colors. Engle started in the inning with a single to left, and went clear to third when Cree let the ball get by. Williams followed with a double, scoring Engle with the only run made by the Red Sox. Caldwell then pulled together and struck out Yerkes, Nunamaker and Collins nine hits, doubles by Speaker, Williams and Lewis figuring in the number, but they were all so well scattered that they did not help the cause of the home nine to any great extent. Caldwell struck out eight atsmen and gave only one pass.

While the Yankees were both outbatted and outfielded by the Red Sox, the New York team succeeded in bunching its hits to such good purpose that it carried off the nonors of the day. Cree continued his good work by rapping out a single and a double, while Johnson got a couple of sin gles and Harry Wolter a triple. Collins alowed only seven hits and gave one pass. striking out five batsmen.
